

GOPHER DESTRUCTION

GLENDALE CITIZENS ATTEND
FAIRM BUREAU DEMONSTRATION AT BURBANK

Quite a group of Glendale men visited Burbank Wednesday morning to witness the demonstration made by F. E. Garlough, a representative of the Bureau of Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, in the destruction of gophers, which are such a pest in this country and which, if the declarations of City Forester Marek are to be believed, threaten to utterly ruin our street trees besides the damage they do to private gardens. The party included Mr. Kellogg of North Louise Street, Horticultural Inspector Marleau, Mr. Laurin of Rock Glen, William Wood of East Wilson Avenue, Emil Fram of West Windsor Road, Ezra Parker and J. B. Whitaker.

The spectators numbered about 125. Nothing was told that has not appeared in print many times, but the instruction was visualized and was for that reason the more effective.

As a preliminary to the demonstration, Mr. Garlough gave the life history of the gopher and described his habits, particularly his surface migrations, which are chiefly at night, and which cover distances as great as a mile. He travels as an individual or at most in a small group, for he is not a social animal who organizes a pack. When the young of a family reach adult age, they strike out for themselves. They are individualists. As proof of these night migrations the speaker told of

H. C. Titcomb, Vice President, E. E. Johnson, Chief Engineer, R. A. Smith, General Passenger agent, F. H. Anderson, Elec. Eng. and J. C. McPherson, of the Pacific Electric official, met with Glendale citizens yesterday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and went over the city's needs in the transportation line most thoroughly. City Manager Watson, Trustee Woodberry for the Board of Public Works, H. P. Coker for the Chamber of Commerce and Roy Kent for the Industrial Committee showed the party over the city, pointing out the Sycamore Canyon Boulevard extension, the proposed route of the P. E. loop from thence to Cypress and Brand, then looked over the industrial district, the flood control work, the proposed new highway extensions and other points of interest. Their decision on car line extensions is expected ere long.

BIRTHDAY LUNCHEON

Little Josephine Franklin was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a two-course luncheon and party in celebration of her eleventh birthday, the guests coming after school at 3:30 and remaining until 5:30. The function of course took place at her home at 398 West Wilson Avenue, and was in the nature of a valentine affair, red and white dominating the decorations and the beautiful birthday cake which was the main feature of the feast. Games were played and a general good time enjoyed, the girls entertained being: Mary Josephine Phillips, Anna Margery Phillips, Charlotte Marvie, Bettie Houston and Helen White.

PLAYERS' CLUB

MEMBERS ENJOY DELIGHTFUL INFORMAL AT HOME AT MASONIC TEMPLE

The Players' Club of this city held a delightfully informal at home at the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening at which they were entertained with dancing and music and several tables of bridge and five hundred. Delicious sandwiches and coffee were served at the close of the evening by the refreshment committee which included Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman, Mrs. Harry Peterson, Mrs. E. Downing, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. Philip Bernays and Misses Ina Whitaker and Gertrude Champlain.

Several guests were present from Los Angeles, the group numbering Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. McCormack, and son Russell, and Miss Myla Jacobson. Another welcome guest was Miss Elizabeth Turner, cousin of D. Ripley Jackson who has just arrived from Honolulu and who will be a guest in his home for several days.

Mr. Jackson made several announcements of interest to club members including preliminary plans for a big dance the organization is intending to give.

AFTERNOON TEA

MRS. CHARLES H. TOLL HONORS REPRESENTATIVES OF THE Y. W. C. A.

A large company of representative women of Glendale responded to the invitation of Mrs. Charles H. Toll to meet at her home on Kenneth Road Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Chester C. Ashley, member of the Los Angeles Board of Education, Miss Helen Matthewson, Dean of Women at the Southern Branch of the University of California, Miss Halderman, International Institute Secretary.

After greeting the guests of honor and each other during a preliminary half hour, the ladies were addressed by the distinguished visitors who presented the work of the Y. W. C. A.

In introducing the first speaker, Mrs. Ashley, the hostess voiced her pleasure in giving women of Glendale an opportunity to hear the message of a woman who for a long time has been engaged in so many splendid activities which have to do with the life and interests of the people of Los Angeles, and whose special interest concerns girls.

Mrs. Ashley stated that she is the mother of two girls and for twenty years has been interested in girls in general; that since she became a member of the Board of Education she has had a larger family of girls in which to be interested. Said she: "The problems which concern girls, whether in a small town or a large city, are much the same. There is always the crying need in their lives for recreation and for the companionship of some one of their own age. Sometimes the mother is too busy to get into the heart of her girl. Sometimes the circumstances under which companionships are formed are not to the liking of the mother, or for the good of the girl. Particularly is this true of the girl who comes into the city alone.

"For fifty years there has been an organization in our country that has dealt particularly with the problems of girls, especially the girl away from home—The Young Women's Christian Association."

DEATH OF ANNA L. SMITH

The death of Mrs. Anna Smith who for twelve years was a resident of this city and who for six years conducted a popular millinery establishment here, will be a real grief to her many friends, for she was a woman of fine character who made friends wherever she went and who always kept them. Had she lived until the eighth of March she would have been fifty-two years old. She was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., where she still has a host of friends, but her remains will be shipped to Jefferson, Iowa, where she lived for a term of years.

Following an illness from which she never completely recovered, the middle of last December she was sent to Norwalk for special treatment and it was there that death came to her at 6:10 this morning.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Jewel City parlors which will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church of which she was a member. Members of Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star to which Mrs. Smith belonged and in which she held prominent offices, will participate in the service. She was also a member of the "Amaranth," a Masonic order akin to the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Smith was the owner of a very attractive little home on Riverdale Drive known as "Quinta Ana," meaning "the country home of Ana." It was not far from the residence of her uncle, John Imbler, and his son, R. Z. Imbler, to whom she was devotedly attached and who reciprocated her affection. She also leaves a brother in Chicago who was here in December.

Those who knew her best are most enthusiastic in their expressions of esteem and admiration for her many fine qualities as a friend, a Christian, and a business woman.

DES MOINES CAPITALIST WILL MOVE TO GLENDAL

S. A. Trowbridge, who recently bought of Robert and Eva Vint their handsome home at 437 Burchett, and considerable acreage near Owensmouth, has returned to his home in Des Moines, Ia., to get ready for the move to Glendale, which he expects to make about March 1. The Vints will occupy property they own in Los Angeles. They like Glendale exceedingly, but Mrs. Vint says the poor car service the past few months compelled the move.

NATIONAL BUDGET ACT

FEDERAL LEGISLATORS PREDICT ITS PASSAGE BEFORE CONGRESSIONAL SESSION ENDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Attorneys among the membership of both houses today predicted the passage of a national budget act before the present session of Congress ends.

Senator McCormick of Illinois said a new bill is being formulated which will be reported to the Senate soon. The House already has passed a budget bill. It is predicted that the greatest difficulty will arise in trying to reconcile the differences between the House and the Senate measures. The House bill makes the Budget Bureau a part of the president's office. The plan advocated by Senator McCormick is to place the bureau under the Treasury Department, holding that the president already has too much work. McCormick declared the senate would pass whatever plan the committee recommended.

I. W. W. TRIAL

JUDGE ANNOUNCES THAT SPECTATORS CARRYING ARMS IN COURTROOM WILL BE DISARMED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MONTESANO, Wash., Jan. 29.—The superior judge presiding today announced that all spectators reported to be carrying arms in the courtroom where the eleven I. W. W.s are being tried for Armistice Day murders, will be called upon to surrender their arms. He said that if it develops that the defense attorney, Vanderveer, is armed, he also will be disarmed.

It is generally known that Vanderveer carries a gun. He has been disarmed several times when he visited prisoners in their cells. Rumors that some of the lumbermen who are attending court are armed, have reached the judge. American Legion members today denied reports that their organization is planning to send an unofficial jury to court to hear the evidence.

OPENING W. BROADWAY

COMMITTEE FAVORS SPEEDY IMPROVEMENTS FOR RAPIDLY GROWING CITY

The Greater Glendale Development Association held a meeting in H. L. Miller's real estate office, 109 South Brand Blvd., last evening to hear a report from the committee previously appointed to secure frontage signers for the proposed opening of a 120-foot boulevard from a point on West Broadway a few rods west of Pacific to the San Fernando Road, near the old winery building.

J. G. Huntley who has been quite active as a member of the committee reported that while the project was quite generally favored by property owners in the business section of the city the land owners in the territory of the proposed boulevard are backward in approving of the improvements.

W. H. Verity who recently completed a very handsome dwelling house located at the entrance of the contemplated boulevard, was present at the meeting and protested very earnestly against the improvement. He suggested that the new boulevard might be built west of his place.

L. T. Rowley, chairman of the association, explained that the purpose of the association was to favor improvements that would be of benefit to the greatest number of people, and declared that sometimes it was necessary to discommode certain property owners in carrying out plans that were really for the best interests of the city.

Engineer Daley of the flood control office advised that the sooner the needed improvements could be made the better as the growth of the city would in the future hinder the making of improvements.

Those present heartily concurred with this idea and on motion the committee was ordered to continue the work of securing signers in favor of the desired improvement.

A motion prevailed that J. G. Huntley be a committee of one to arrange for the next meeting of the Greater Glendale Development Association and he was instructed to see that a dinner is provided for those who promise to attend. In the absence of the regular secretary Dr. C. R. Lusby served as secretary pro tem.

CHAS. WESSON SELLS AND BUYS

Chas. Wesson, who works in the Acme grocery, has sold his home at 354 West Elk Avenue to Wm. Sullivan of Los Angeles, who will move in next week. Mr. Wesson bought John Marvel's place at 619 Orange Grove Avenue and the latter is in treaty for property on Oak Street. Mr. Wesson sold some of his furniture, as he is moving into a smaller house. Speaking of this, he said: "That Evening News is a great paper for advertising results. My one small ad brought a buyer to my home before I thought the paper was out, and by half past three all was sold."

HAYWARDS LOCATED AT LAST

E. W. Hayward and wife, after spending a year in Glendale have finally bought themselves a home, at 307 N. Kenwood. They came to Glendale from Hartford, Conn., and met with quite a misfortune at the start. Mr. Hayward falling and breaking a leg. This he fully recovered from. Since getting into their new home their son, E. P., who was in the army, has joined them. He will be in charge of the Edwards & Wiley real estate business in Glendale. Another son, J. S., lives on West Lexington Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Hayward are now entertaining an honored guest, ex-Judge Shumway of the Connecticut Supreme Court, an uncle of Mrs. Hayward. The latter is suffering considerably today from an accident which occurred yesterday to her while taking the Orange Empire trolley trip. On the way back from San Bernardino the electric car they were in was run into at a crossing by a heavy furniture truck, which smashed in the front of the car and was then swung around, raking the side of the car along its full length. A number of passengers were hurt by flying glass, among them Mrs. Hayward, who received a deep gash on her forehead which required several stitches to close.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Friday. No important change in temperature.

TREAT FOR STUDENTS

BOSTON BARITONE SINGER JOHN SMALLMAN, SECURED FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The policy of Glendale Union High School to provide such instruction as will develop critical taste and create in the minds of students a hunger for the best in art, science, literature and music, naturally entails responsibility to meet that hunger by occasional programs of outside talent. This is the motive of the series of recitals and lectures which has been recently arranged by Mrs. Dora Gibson, head of the music department of the school. While they are primarily for the pleasure of students, she is not ignoring the interest which the announcement has created among the many musicians and music lovers of Glendale and she has no intention of excluding those who wish to enjoy the treat. Mrs. Gibson has not as yet revealed the program of the entire series, but says it will be opened by the splendid baritone, John Smallman and his fine accompanist, Lorna Gregg.

John Smallman came to Los Angeles about a year ago from Boston, where he was recognized as one of the foremost concert and oratorio singers on the eastern coast. Since coming to California he has appeared with the famous song writers, Charles Wakefield Cadman and Carrie Jacobs Bond. His work as conductor of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, especially on the occasion of its appearance with the Philharmonic Orchestra in "The Messiah" recently, proved to western music lovers his ability as an exponent of that great masterpiece.

PHILATHEA DOINGS

Monday evening the young women of the Presbyterian church had a delightful time at the home of Mrs. J. Rhea Baker at 331 North Maryland Avenue. The early part of the evening was given over to a business session, during which great enthusiasm greeted the plans outlined by Mrs. Baker, teacher of the Philathea class, for enlarging the class membership and forming a teachers' training class. An enjoyable social time followed, during which refreshments were served.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. H. C. Nicholas of 337 West Wilson Avenue returned Sunday from the Glendale Sanitarium, where she has been for the past six weeks recuperating from an acute attack of appendicitis. Though still confined to her bed and under the care of a physician, she is getting along nicely and expects to be out soon. It is the first time Mrs. Nicholas has seen her new home, having been taken to the sanitarium a few days before they moved from 528 Patterson Avenue.

DEATH OF MISS MOORE

Miss D. Moore died yesterday at 11:50 o'clock from pneumonia. She was operated on for appendicitis last week and was getting along nicely until attacked by pneumonia. Miss Moore came to Glendale several weeks ago from Dallas, Texas, to assist in nursing her sister, Mrs. J. P. Alexander of 824 E. Acacia Avenue, who was then very seriously ill but is now on the way to recovery.

BOOK OF ESTHER

FINE INTERPRETATION GIVEN BY PROF. HEAD AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Wednesday evening meeting at the Congregational Church at which Professor Head of Occidental College continued the talk given the week previous on "Adolescence," following with a recital and interpretation of the Book of Esther, was largely attended. The address had to do with the general problems of adolescence rather than that special period in the lives of girls, which will be taken up at the next meeting. It especially concerned, of course, Sunday School work and the age at which it is advantageous to put boys and girls together in classes, in other words, the grading of young people. The recital proved intensely interesting, not alone because of the splendid reading of the text but because of the sidelights he was able to throw on the drama by his explanations of the manners, customs and standards of that time and their influence on the conduct of the actors. So well did he impersonate each role by his voice inflections and facial expressions that it was perfectly easy to identify each character he portrayed.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

"BESETTING SINS" THE THEME OF EVANGELIST AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

The revival meetings which are in progress at the First Methodist Church are growing in numbers and interest each night. Rev. Ross, the Evangelist, and Frank Cooper, the singer, are both strong men and are meeting the expectations of all who attend. Last evening Evangelist Ross spoke on "Besetting Sins." His message was direct and powerful. Many persons evidenced a desire for prayer. Mr. Ross said in part:

"The 'besetting sin' is the sin we are most sensitive about. Reproof for it is most unwelcome. For this sin we make the most ardent excuses and are most unwilling to forsake it. There are various besetting sins such as ugody pride, envy, covetousness, anger, impatience. There is that sin of habit that binds the church member so that he is utterly helpless in the matter of bringing about a revival."

"These besetting sins," declared the Evangelist, "are not only injurious to the individual, but to others also. God's plan for the church is a plan that means victory to the Christian and then in the spirit of a victor rather than a victim, we go forth to serve."

Tonight's meeting will be one of special interest. At 7:15 the men and the women meet in separate groups for prayer. The praise service will begin at 7:30.

Friday evening will be Young People's evening. Rev. Ross has a special sermon and several very attractive features for this meeting.

MOROCCO, DEVELOPED, MAY FEED ALL EUROPE

Today, when the world is suffering from under-production, eyes are eagerly turned to lands of great natural wealth whose resources may be most readily utilized to serve the pressing needs of mankind. One of these lands is Morocco, in North Africa, separated from Europe only by the narrow Straits of Gibraltar, and while nominally governed by a native sultan, practically controlled by France and Spain. It was from Morocco that, a thousand years ago, the dark-skinned Moors poured into Spain, where they rose to power, raised wonderful buildings of a new architecture, and excelled in the arts and sciences, only after centuries, to be driven back to the country of their origin, where they show little trace of the genius that stamped their race while domiciled in Europe. It is to the French people, the most kindly of Europeans in their dealings with other races, that many look for the speedy development of the richest virgin land within easy reach of a continent half exhausted by war. France herself has hopes that in Morocco she may restore her losses; for Morocco is said to have power to produce three harvests every year, to grow enough food to feed all Europe, and to yield every mineral needed in the foundries. Says a writer in "My Magazine:—

"The people of Morocco say of their country that the world is a peacock and Morocco is its tail. 'It is a bedraggled tail at present, for the country is wasted by centuries of war. Its wonderful soil bears little but a marvelous spangle of flowering weeds. The peasantry of the plain is perishing from plague, and the wildest of the feudal chiefs, Raisuli, is fighting Spaniards with poison gas.

"Yet truly Morocco is the peacock's tail of the world—a country of such natural glory that it is hard to find another equal to it. The climate is perfect. The vast snow-crowned rampart of the Atlas mountains stops the hot winds from the Sahara desert, and under this shelter the gentle, undulating country stretches toward the warm Atlantic like a green paradise."—Literary Digest.

tian Association. It has been a comfort to know that such an organization is in existence and during the war our attention was drawn to the very broad aspects of the work of the national organization. As the government found problem after problem having to do with women and girls it turned to the experts of the Y. W. C. A. national Board for help in solving the problem and usually pushed it onto the Y. W. C. A."

The speaker then told of the work done in co-operation with the government for its thousands of women employees in Washington, forced to live under trying, crowded conditions, and how the demands of the hour brought about the banding together of members of the war work council—college presidents, women of wealth and social position to solve these big problems.

The work abroad for women who served as Red Cross nurses who had no place to go for rest and relaxation until the Y. W. C. A. established recreation rooms for them; the centers established for women working in the French factories which so impressed the French government that it asked the association to continue it after the armistice was signed, and then to train French secretaries to carry it on after American secretaries should withdraw. Other countries have watched this work and Belgian government officials want to learn how to start it in that country. Greece and Italy desire it for their women; the peace council asked for a conference with Miss Taylor, the secretary at the head of the work abroad to learn how it could be carried on. Even the Czecho-Slovaks asked for a training course for Y. W. C. A. secretaries. To meet the needs of Poland fifty young Polish-American girls in New York took the training and banded together as the Polish Gray Samaritans, twenty of whom were sent to Poland last June and another group in December. Secretaries have been sent to Turkey, to Armenia and even to Russia. The same cry is coming from South America where for the first time women are being educated. Centers which have long been established in China, Japan and India, are receiving the hearty support and co-operation of the American missionaries there and reaching a class which the missions do not at first touch.

The United States government and the governments of these countries who have appealed for help have asked for the results of the research work of the Y. W. C. A. and for social surveys and the national board has been asked to put more experts at work on these research investigations and meet these demands it is endeavoring to establish a fund for a national department of research which will try to get at the roots of industrial unrest and the real cause of the suffering among us rather than to find remedies which are merely palliative.

Mrs. Ashley then spoke of the local work in Los Angeles, where a colored center has been established on Twelfth Street under a colored secretary, who is a graduate of Vassar. In referring to the work of another center known as "The International Institute," which has been established down in the Russian, Chinese, Japanese district, she called upon Miss Halderman, one of its six secretaries who threw interesting sidelights upon its many activities in the big "Americanization" work it is carrying on.

"We are going to ask Los Angeles for $100,000," Mrs. Ashley said. "$12,000 for the national work, $15,000 to change the fiscal year from June to January, and $69,000 for regular work in support of secretaries, educational work, and a special work among would-be moving picture girls known as the "Studio Club." She spoke of the big demands upon the Association by reason of congested housing conditions in Los Angeles and other important problems.

Mrs. Ashley's fine talk was indorsed and supplemented by Miss Mathewson who said:

"You can not be associated with young women very long without learning something about the Y. W. C. A. I have become a booster for it because it is worthy of being boosted. Every one realizes this is a wonderful period in the history of the world and that all the agencies for good have a great deal to do. It seems to me the Y. W. C. A. touches practically every great issue of the day. If the public can be made to realize what a splendid agency for the good of girls the Y. W. C. A. really is, it will gladly give the support the association asks for because America loves her girls."

Mrs. Toll then told some stories showing the personal contacts of the association in its work for girls, and other ladies present contributed their personal experience or observations.

The ladies were then served to tea and cakes and had an opportunity to again exchange greetings and to meet the special guests of the afternoon. About 125 ladies were present.

The Texcal Oil & Refining Company

CALIFORNIA PERMIT 8466

Officered and Managed by Glendale and Los Angeles Men

Offers an Exceptionally Attractive Speculation

This company holds leases on 3653 acres of land in Gonzales County, Texas, believed by geologists and oil experts to be the coming oil field of Texas.

On this company's land oil was struck at 1128 feet and rose and filled the slush pit—oil worth $3.00 per bbl. This well was accidentally spoiled, and in order to raise the necessary money to redrill and bring in the production shown in the spoiled well, estimated from 150 to 250 bbls. per day, a limited amount of stock is offered for sale at 20 cents per share, par value $1.00, non-assessable.

Eight wells are being drilled in a semi-circle around Texcal Oil & Refining Co.'s property, and fourteen locations made and drilling to start as soon as possible. This means that half a million dollars is being spent in development of this field—showing what oil men think of it.

If you want to come in with us on this splendid speculation, mail check for stock or address for further information.

The Corona town council threatens to compel property owners to keep their sidewalks clean. But the Corona folks need not enforce such things as keeping sidewalks clean or shade trees trimmed so people can walk under them. If they did, towns wouldn't seem like towns, but like cities and the inhabitants would get homesick for something to kick about.

finding in a single narrow strip of tar 28 gophers trapped there in one night. The breeding season is from December to July, and the litters run from two to ten, averaging six to eight. Their natural enemies were enumerated as hawks, owls, snakes, weasels, bob and house cats. Of these the owls, by reason of their feeding at night rank first in importance, a single owl having been credited with dispatching from six to twelve gophers in one evening.

Because of gopher migrations control of these rodents, Mr. Garlough declared, is a community problem.
He admitted that trapping on a small place is an excellent method, but warned that the habits of the animal must always be considered else success will not be achieved. Gophers do their underground traveling in dark runs and a trap plunged into an open hole and left open is certain to excite their suspicion and avoidance. The ideal way, he said, is to close the hole with a bit of grass or weeds which will admit a slight ray of light, enough to arouse the curiosity of the creature who will investigate and probably get into the trap. His instructions were:
"When you get your trap into the main runway, close the hole entirely, otherwise he may push a load of dirt ahead of him and stuff the trap."

Owing to the amount of time consumed in trapping, where the infested area is large, he recommended poisoned bait. Here, too, the habits of the gopher should be remembered and its natural food be taken into account. This consists of bulbs, tu-bers and roots, and as a medium for conveying poison he said the government has found nothing better than the sweet potato. The bait should be of a size too large for the gopher to put in his pocket and carry away to his storehouse, for a gopher is a thrifty creature, and stores away about ten times as much as he consumes. He recommended cutting sweet potatoes into dice one-half inch square by one inch long. Four quarts of these after being dipped in water should be drained in a col-ander and then peppered with a compound consisting of one-eighth of an ounce of strychnine (alkaloid) in powdered form and one-thirty-second of an ounce of saccharine which will neutralize the bitter of the strychnine. Sweet potato thus treated will stand up and be effective for several days where a fruit would decay.

The next point he emphasized was the necessity of getting the bait and the gopher together. As an aid in effecting this union he exhibited a simple gopher probe made of three-quarter inch pipe. The point was about 18 inches long with a solid sharpened point welded in. This was screwed into a "T." At right angles to the shaft a six-inch foot rest was screwed into the "T" to aid in probing hard soils. The handle, about three, and one-half feet long and bluntly pointed, was screwed into the top. His instructions were to locate the main runways by probing around mounds or between two mounds to strike the connecting runway. As the observers could easily see, the open tunnel could be located as the point of the probe broke in.
The blunt end of the instrument he then used to enlarge the hole, a bait or two was placed within by means of a sharpened wire or stick, and the probe hole closed. "To check up results," said he, "mark the location of baits with sticks. Twenty-four to thirty-eight hours later open the burrows at these points. Runways remaining open indicate that the go-pher inhabiting it has been killed. If the hole has been closed, the gopher is still alive."

He stated that one expert could treat 300 to 500 gopher workings a day, or an average of 15 acres.

He admitted that fruit is good bait, but cautioned against grain because of the storing habits of gophers.

He also said that owing to the great length of the runs—which sometimes extend for 600 feet—poison gas does not give good results.
Another reason why it is ineffective is that the gopher and his family have their dwelling about three feet below the surface or approximately two feet below the main run, and the approach to this abode is kept stuffed.
In other words, Mr. Gopher locks the door behind him, so there is little chance for the gas to reach him.

City Forester Marek says that some of the lots in Glendale are fairly honeycombed with gopher holes, and that the work of the forestry force is almost hopeless because the runs extend back from the parkways into the private grounds. Citizens are timid about the use of poisoned bait not realizing that the gophers die in their holes and therefore can cause no harm. When asked about the practicability of employing an expert to go over the city, both public and private grounds in a campaign of extermination, he admitted it would be the efficient thing to do and that it would prevent in all probability thousands of dollars of damage, not only to street trees but to gardens, trees and shrubs in home plantations. If done thoroughly, he expressed the opinion it would protect the territory for two or three years. In some sections, he says, the sidewalks have been so undermined that they sound hollow when tapped.

"THE CAMPFIRE"

Tree Planting

Troop 1, the Tropic troop, is to be given first opportunity to do their "good turn" on Saturday of this week. The boys have rallied loyally to their task, and have resolved that Troop One will lead all the other troops in number of trees planted, and in number of boys taking part.
They will meet the City Forester at Cerritos Avenue school on Saturday morning at 8:30, with all available tools.

These boys are to be congratulated on their true Scout enthusiasm and their eagerness to be of service to Glendale. If the other troops of Glendale respond with half of the pep and zeal of Troop One, Glendale will certainly see a splendid example of what her Boy Scouts really mean to her.

Troop 2 is to be given the next opportunity to show their colors. They will meet on the following Saturday, February 7, at the City Hall. Don't make any other engagements for that Saturday, you Scouts of Troop 2, for we are looking for a fine showing from you, too!

Tests

Glendale Scouts have manifested such enthusiasm for their work, and such desire to get ahead in Scouting that our Board of Examiners have been nearly swamped. Sixty-six tests were given at the Test Period this week Wednesday, by three examiners.
Therefore it has been decided to make two test periods each week instead of one. The Wednesday period will begin at 5 p. m. instead of 4:30, and there will be another period every Saturday at 9 a. m., beginning Saturday, February 7.

Should any boys find that their tree planting interfered with their tests, special arrangements can be made with Mr. Kellogg for taking tests at some other time.

Tests passed this week are as follows:

Troop 2: Burnham Warner, Chas.
Conklin, Jack Alvoid, Francis Read, Robert Hatch, Leslie Hatch, Douglass
White, Willard Roberts, Burton Kuntzner, all passed tests. Total tests for Troop 2 number eighteen.
Good for Troop 2.

Troop 3: Floyd Kenney, Wayne
Maxwell, Robert Raymond, Eugene Wernette, all passed tests, making a total this week for Troop 3 of eleven.

Troop 4: Arthur Wetton, Archie Neel, Westley Fine, Francis Gilman, Marion Morrison, William Watson,
Arthur Barton, Forest Krug, Eugene
Hoy, Edward Woodward, Thomas Petacost, all worked together to win first place this week for Troop 4 passing a total of twenty-five. Troop 4 breaks the record!

Troop 5: Dean Hoopes, Chas.
Burr, William Shinner, John Judd, and Gene Streit brought Troop 5's record for the week up to ten. This is a very good showing for our newest troop, the troop without a scoutmaster and with a very small membership. Watch Troop 5 grow!

Notice to Troop 5

We have found a fine assistant scoutmaster to take Mr. Mullen's place. Mr. Miles, who has already helped the troop numerous times during their organization and early meetings will be soon commissioned as assistant scoutmaster. He is not yet twenty-one years old, and therefore cannot be commissioned as scoutmaster, but he knows scouting from A to Z and is a splendid leader of boys. Troop 5 is mighty lucky to get him.

There will be a big rally for all boys interested in Troop 5 next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at headquarters, and from here the boys will march to their new troop quarters. Get busy boys and have a big crowd out for next Wednesday.

THE UNITED AMERICANS

A new national organization, to be known as "The United Americans," was formed recently when prominent men from nearly every state in the Union met at the Columbia Club in New York to discuss the best methods for defeating revolutionary radicalism.

The object of the organization is the preservation of the Constitution of the United States, with particular reference to the form of government which that Constitution provides.
The chief aim of the radical element has been to destroy the constitution by means of continuous propaganda.

The sponsors of the movement submit that the American form of government is superior to any other in its recognition and guarantees of liberty.

The society will not enter the forum of public debate, and will indulge in no recrimination. Its object is education. Every proper vehicle of propaganda will be utilized to spread the principles for which it stands. The fallacies which are being subtly and widely spread for destructive purposes are to be met with truths just as carefully calculated for popular appeal, and just as widely disseminated. Simple facts concerning the American form of government and the principles of right and justice upon which it is founded are to be presented everywhere by the written and spoken word. There is to be a national committee with one representative from every state in the Union, with state subcommittees. The society is non-partisan and non-political. It is expected to be a powerful influence for clean Americanism.

The strength of the radical forces lies in organization and publicity. All that is needed to defeat them is those same agencies used as systematically by the conservative and loyal element which is always in the majority, but often apparently weak because unorganized.

Why Tuesday's audience at Keller's Audito- rium was so completely mystified. Marie Morrissey was inside the phonograph in all excepting physical presence

At first reading, the story of the New Edison's performance last Tuesday night at Keller's Auditorium seems fraught with mystery.

But the explanation is simple enough.

First, get a picture of what happened. Miss Morrissey sang Happy Days.
She stopped after the first few lines, but her voice flowed on without a break.
No one even noticed she had stopped—until some eyes, keener than the rest, saw her lips were still. It was only then that realization dawned. The audience found it had been listening to the New Edison.*

To every ear, the two voices, living and RE-CREATED, had been without a shade of difference.

That was what so mystified the audience. They had expected the RE-CREATED art to betray its phonographic origin. It was a step too advanced for their comprehension that this instrument should be all that Miss Morrissey is, excepting her physical presence.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

This extraordinary proof is the only means through which people learn to appreciate the true powers of the New Edison. If you are interested in music, it is indeed unfortunate that you were not present.

Yet, you know this is a test which no other phonograph dares to attempt. It is proof that no one can evade or deny. The New Edison* is the only phonograph which RE-CREATES music and the soul of music.

Come in and hear it for yourself.

*The instrument used in Tuesday's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $295. It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.
